

Soh Ee Shaun

b. 1980, Singapore

Lazy Sunday afternoons, 2015

Acrylic on Canvas
H 91 x 91cm

This work marks a bold shift towards the abstract, expressing - in his own words - 'the transmission of energy and ideas through spacetime, and the multiplicities of energetic visuals using colour and form on a plane surface.' 'Lazy Sunday afternoons' describes the playful and spontaneous nature of Ee Shaun's approach to painting as a carefree, laid-back activity - 'one that should be enjoyed and not rushed.'