

Soh Ee Shaun

b. 1980, Singapore

Residents Only, 2013

Ink Paper

H 56 x 76 cm (Framed)

'Residents Only' is a commentary about anti-foreigner sentiments among Singaporeans, depicting a group of characters fighting and squabbling in an overcrowded city. Drawn in his characteristically illustrative style, and inspired by a circular red 'Residents Only' sign in his own condominium, Ee Shaun's drawing suggests the need to re-evaluate what it means to be a resident in Singapore's largely immigrant society