These works mark a bold shift towards the abstract, expressing - in his own words - 'the transmission of energy and ideas through spacetime, and the multiplicities of energetic visuals using colour and form on a plane surface.' 'We'll meet again in another time and place' (Part 1 and 2) describes the artists' belief that people and life are deeply interconnected, and that the universe will always find a way to bring people back together again, either in this life or in the next.
